"Painting a Moving Train" Working with Veterans of Iraq and Afghanistan and Their Families"

Program Overview

Florida has over 23,000 active and over 2,600 reserve service men and women currently deployed in Iraq and Afghanistan. Over the next 18 months, most of them will be returning home to their families and communities. It is widely known that the adjustment to non-combat life will present a significant challenge to many and, while a variety of health and mental services are available through the Veterans Administration, some will look to traditional community providers for help. This program sets out to provide an overview of the military life and culture, the combat experience and the wide spectrum of psychosocial issues faced by returning service personnel.

Program Objectives

At the end of this program, participants should be able to:

- ✦ List the unique clinical aspects and medical needs of service members and their families before, during and after mobilization, deployment and redeployment.
- ✦ Describe the concerns, needs, and strengths of family members in order to improve their care before, during and after their loved one's mobilization and deployment.
- ✦ Identify local, state, and community resources in support of their efforts on behalf of new combat veterans and their families.

Who Should Attend

This program is designed for mental health professionals, including psychologists, social workers, counselors, marriage & family therapists, pastoral counselors, substance abuse counselors, psychiatric nurses and others who are now or, who may be interested in working with veterans of Iraq and Afghanistan and/or their families.
